FAMILY LIFE

Well, because of the hours- it's a twenty four hour, seven day a week job- uh, you never knew what tour you were going to be on. So, there were times when your family, um, would have to be second. It couldn't be first because you needed the money. You had to work. So, uh, I had- my husband worked, but we still needed that, uh, additional income. My daughter always went to a private school. So, it did affect the relationship that we had, uh, for a while, until I was given a permanent assignment, where I worked during the day. So, now that's not an issue because my daughter's twenty nine. I'm a widow, so now it's okay whatever tour I work.
