WOMEN'S PROGRAMS

For the last ten years, I have in one primary position or another, have been very active in what's called the Women Putting Their Stamp on Metro Milwaukee awards, which is actually received nationwide recognition, for the National Diversity award in 2007. Each year we have women from the metro Milwaukee area, outside the Postal Service, as well as, one to two employees from within the Postal Service that we recognize for their, achievements, public and private achievements.
