Family Life

Monica Walker talks about the impact of the postal service on her home life.

I don't spend much time with my family at all. I tell everybody that the post office, and I tell all the carriers, that we are family, because we spend more time at the post office than we actually do at home. So you don't get to spend a lot of time with the family. And you spend 10-12 hours a day at the postal service. My family has been very supportive. They understand. Three of my kinds have been brought up since I been here.
