COLLECTION SCOPE and CONTENT

The George W. Brett Papers and Documents Collection consists of 100 banker's boxes of material ranging from handwritten research notes, copies of historical documents and others, and an extensive collection of his philatelic correspondence. The Collection includes the Hugh McLellan Southgate Papers and Documents Collection consisting of 26 volumes.

PROVENANCE

The George W. Brett Papers and Documents Collection was bequeathed to Smithsonian National Postal Museum (NPM). Upon his death, this collection was separated from both his stamp collections and his personal library which were sold in a series of auctions partially benefiting the United States Stamp society and the NPM. This Collection was packed into boxes at his home in Spirit Lake, Iowa and shipped to the Smithsonian National Postal Museum in Washington, D.C. between 2007 and 2009. There the content of the boxes was reorganized into a set of new boxes.

NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION

George W. Brett was born May 30, 1912 at Spirit Lake, Iowa, son of John and Jessie (Cummings) Brett. George was raised and educated in Spirit Lake. He worked as an R.P.O. clerk during 1936-42. He married Louise Schindler in Chicago, Illinois May 10, 1941; they divorced shortly thereafter. He then went to the Republic of Panama working for the government as a fiscal accounting clerk when he entered the U.S. Navy. He continued his work in Panama until 1949. Afterward, he continued his education at the University of Chicago, receiving a B.A. in 1953, and his M.S. in 1961. George worked as a geologist at the U.S. Geological Survey in Washington, D.C., where he retired in 1979. He enjoyed travel, photography, mountain climbing and studying postage stamp production. George passed away Friday, January 14, 2005, at Hilltop Care Center in Spirit Lake. He was preceded in death by his parents, brothers, John and W. Glade, and sisters, Elizabeth and Charlotte. He is survived by a niece, Mildred Bryan, and a grandniece and a grandnephew.

George in the 1930s

George was widely regarded as the greatest living authority on United States stamp production. For over 60 years he had written groundbreaking research on U.S. stamps from the first issue in 1847 to the most recent issues. He is the author of over 500 reports and articles and also authored a book, The Giori Press, 1961, Printing Methods and Techniques, in 1985. He was regarded as a great teacher and a living legend in the field of philately. George served on the expert committees of the American Philatelic Society and the Philatelic Foundation and served for several years as a member of the Postmaster General's Citizen's Stamp Advisory Committee.

George Brett's service to the United States Stamp Society (also under its preceding name, the Bureau Issues Association) is unparalleled. He was a member for his entire adult life, joining at age 21, the age at which the BIA permitted membership. He was a prolific contributor to

The Specialist and served as Editor in 1964. Brett was President of the Society in 1966 and 1967, Chairman of the Board from 1968 through 1973, and since 1981, Chairman Emeritus. In 2000 at the 70th Anniversary banquet of the Society held at the National Postal Museum, he was inducted into the Society's Hall of Fame. For many, many years, George has been known as "Mr. B.I.A."

Some of George's numerous awards include:

National Merit Award, Association of Stamp Clubs of Southeastern Pennsylvania
Phoenix Award, Arizona Federation of Stamp Clubs
Scroll of Honor, U.S. Geological Survey, Washington
Luff Award, American Philatelic Society
Writers Hall of Fame, Unit 30, American Philatelic Society
Meritorious Service Award, The Philatelic Foundation
U.S. Philatelic Research Award, The Cryer Foundation
Lichtenstein Memorial Award, Collector's Club of N.Y.
McCoy Award, American Philatelic Congress
Distinguished Philatelist Award, U.S. Philatelic Classics Society
Dorothy Colby Memorial Award, American Philatelic Congress
Hopkinson Memorial Award and Southgate Distinguished Philatelist Award, Bureau Issues Association
Philatelic Achievement Award, Smithsonian Institution

In the U.S. Navy,
1944, Panama

In addition to the numerous accolades coming to George from various sources in the philatelic world, many also knew George as a fascinating, knowledgeable person. Many were fortunate to spend time with him at several summer seminars at the A.P.S. headquarters in State College and at numerous stamp shows. He had many stories about activities at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and often referred to the printing personnel as the “boys at the Bureau.” George's legacy is not only the knowledge he shared, but also his encouragement for others to share.

A member who had never met George remarked that his works will survive him as long as stamps are collected. His U.S. Specialist articles describing in detail the U.S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing presses are a treasure of information.

In the U.S. Navy,
1944, Panama

George Brett's articles could be counted on as being probably the most influential source for the learning and understanding of modern varieties.

The name of George Brett is also immortalized in postal history. George worked as an R.P.O. clerk 1936-42, working on trains in Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. He once told the story that while he worked at the Chicago R.P.O. Terminal he would occasionally go to the distribution area in the Chicago Post Office and look at the mail sorted for his hometown of Spirit Lake, Iowa. If he found a letter addressed to someone he knew, he would sometimes backstamp the letter with his R.P.O. clerk's marking as a way of saying “hello” - not according to regulations, but no one ever complained.

Many remember George fondly, and one former Society officer remarked, “He was very friendly to me when my knowledge was limited and shared with me everything I asked him for. He was a grand old gentleman.” We will always remember George in that way.¹

At NAPEX 2000

When the 100 or so boxes containing the collection of Brett's papers arrived in Washington, it was discovered that the packing process resulted in most boxes containing material that was not related. Therefore prior to organizing the Collection each box was inventoried at a high level. As the material was organized into new boxes, that original inventory was shuffled to describe the contents of the new boxes. As a result, some boxes listed below have no detailed description and others probably have some errors of description. The researcher is cautioned to use this guide as a starting point and to search other boxes if the desired item is not found right away.

The organization and documentation of this huge collection engaged a number of people including:

Cheryl R. Ganz	NPM Chief Curator of Philately
Daniel Piazza	NPM Assistant Curator of Philately
Thomas Lera	NPM Winton Blount Research Chair
Richard Bates	NPM Research Associate
Herbert Trenchard	NPM Research Associate
Michael Plett	NPM Volunteer
Kenneth Gilbert	NPM Volunteer
Katie Burke	NPM Philately
